THE TRIAL OF O'DONNELL

THE FAMOUS CASE AT LAST BEGUN.

O'Donnell's Armed Escort From the Prison to the Court-Large Attendance of Visitors. The Testimony of Witnesses.

LONDON, Nov. 30,-In unticipation of the trial of Unrey's slayer, commencing at the Old Balley to-day, the notorious prisoner was taken from his cell at Millhank and placed in the prison van, where two policemen sat with him, holding haded revolvers in their hands. Another constable rode on the back steps, also holding a revolver in full view. Two others, similarly armed, rode beside the driver, while slx mounted constables, with swords drnwn, took up their position beside the vehicle. On lenving Milibank the cavalcade set oat at n smnrt trot through Westminister, where the stationary police at once diverted the traffic, to nf-ford a clear way. Passing Westminister the horses were urged to a gallon nlong the Thames earbankment, and then again slowed to a trot through Newbridge street and Ludgate hill to the Old Bailey. Here they drove right inside the yard gates, which were quickly closed after them. D'Donnell was then taken into the court-room and provided with n sent near his comusel. The prisoner appeared unconcerned, and chewed tobacco relishingly. The court was crowded, but not excessively, the Sherlif having only issued n limited number of tickets to the general public. Mnny ladies were present. Henry James, Attorney General, and Mr. Polmid appeared for the Crown. Mr. Charles Russell, Q. C., M. P., with Mr. A. M. Sallivan appeared for O'Donnell. Geu eral Prior was present in court and occupled a seat with Mr. Gny, the prisoner's solicitor, and frequently confered with the two En glish counsel. The Attorney General opened the case for the prosecution, giving a history of Carey's movements from the thue he left Dablin to the thue he reached Cape Town. He likewise traced the steps of the prisoner, O'Donneli, until he met Carey upon the Cape mail steamer. 11c then dwelt apon the inthnacy which sprang up between tho two men. Going farther on, the learned counsel drew a vivid picture of the excitement O'Donnell exhibited when he lirst become aware that his acquaintance was Carey, and his evident determination from that time to do away with the informer. That the crime was one of wilfal murder he declared he could conclusively prove. He proceeded to call witnesses. James Parlsh, a servent on the steamer Melrose, was the first witness called. He testified that he saw no evidence of passion on the part of O'Donnell, and saw no straggle between O'Donnell and Carey. On cross-exnullnation he said he was ignorant of the fact that a pistol had been found upon Carey's son. He saw only O'Donnell's pistol. Thomas Jones, hoatswaln, was the next witness. He repeated the testimony given before Muglstrate Flowers at the Bow Street Court September 28, to the effect that he heard no quarreilng previous to the shooting of Carey; that Mrs. Carey was wrong in stating, as she did in her testimong before Magistrato Flowers that O'Donnell had said to her: "Don't blame me; I was sent to do it," aud reiternted his former statement that I did not do it.' Carev's son was then enlied to the stand and repeated his testimony given at the Bow Street Police Court September 28th, to the effect that O'Donnell was sitting when he lired the first shot at his father. llis father did not grappie with O'Donnell. After witnessing O'Domell shoot his father he ruu to the latter's birth and obtained his revolver, but had not time to give before one of the officers took it from him He added that he saw O'Donneil draw his revolver, and saw him shoot at his father. He then raa and fetched his father's pistol. On being cross-examined be admitted his evidence in regard to the movements of Parlsh, given before Magistrato Flowers, was wrong, and several thnes during crossexamination by Mr. Sullivan, young Carey beenmo very much confased, and gave evasive answers. Mr. Sullivan closely pressed young Carcy for answers, during which he declared that O'l)onnell drew his weapon with his left hand. O'Donnell's left hand is paralyzed and was so at the time of the shooting. Young Carey then contradicted his previous evidence as to what O'Donnell sald at the time of the shooting. When questioned closely, he finally declared that he had now forgotten the exact words O'Donnell used and did not know whether they were: "I had to do it," or, "I did do as he testified when under examination at Cape Town, or, was sent to do it," as he testilled before Magistrate Flowers on September 25th, and again on September 28th before the same Mngistrnte. Young Curey being further cross-examined, de-clared that he never said that his father's revolver was gone from the bag and that he had no recollection of having met a person named Waiter Young. Mr. Sullivan then beckoned to Young, who rose in court and created quite a tableau by de-

CHICAGO SENSATION REVIVED.

Theresa Sturlata, Morderess, Released From the Penitentiary. CHICAGO, Nov. 30 .- Theresa Sturlatn was released from the Penitentiary, at Joliet, Thusday evening, after serving a year for the murder of Charles Stiles, Caller of the Chicago Grain and Provision Exchange, and a well-known man about tewn. Interest in the case is now revived by a struggle between the demi monde and several wellkaown ladies who seek to redeem the girl. At present the good ladies seem to have triumphed. Sturlata, nt the time of the murder was an inmate of the house of Carrie Watson, leader of the demi monds Watson is said to have spent $5,000 in her defense. It has been generally understood that the glrl would return to Watson's house on her release. Watson had made great preparations for a reception for Starlata to-night, which she boasted would outrival any bunquet ever given in the city. When Sturlata was released she was met by Mrs. Dr. Briard, whom she accompanied to Chicago. They left the train nt a suburban station to avoid the reporters, and drove to the residence of Mrs. Mitcheli. Mrs, Mitchell says she intends to give the girl a home. What the girl will do she does not know. She thinks her repentent and determined to lead a virtuous life. A few weeks ago the girl's brothers visited her. They assured her that her mother, who is a respectable woman, living in Baltimore, offered her forgivoaess and a home. It is said that the demi mondo reception will yet take place, having been postponed by Watson who feared to take the step in the face of the grent popular feeling. It is said, also, that the police issued a peremptory order prohibiting any house from receiving Sturlata. The belief prevails that after the excitement subsides Sturlata will resume her former life. Watson, in an interview, denies the alleged reception and says she would put no stumbling block in the way of the girl's reformation. Starlata was brought here by Stiles from Baltimore in 1874.

LATER.-All elforts of a score of re porters have so far fulled to find the whereabouts of Theresa Sturlata, released from Joliet prison Thursday night. The circles of religious ladies formed to make provision for her welfare professed utter Ignoranco of her location, and so do the cyprians nt whose houses she was expected Thursday night.

THE FIGHT WARMING UP.

CARLISLE'S CHANCES ARE BETTER

At Least His Friends Claim Large Acces slons-Both Parties Working Like Beavers-Contest for the Minor Positions.

WASHINGTON D. C., Nov. 80.—The headquarters of Messrs, Randall, Carlisle & Co. presented a lively appearance all day and at night, and the friends of each cand idate have been driving a vigorous campaign. The most important feature of the day's work is the retirement of Mr. Springer from the Speakership contest. This was brought about nt a cnacus of the Illinois delegation held late in the afternoon, and the Democratic members of the delegation are said to be three for Randall and six for Carlisle. Representative Mor rison says that Mr. Springer has consented to vote for the Kentuckian. Some doubts exist respecting Mr. Spriager's vote, however, owing to the fact that he was in close conference with Mr. Randall during the evening.

Representative Townshend, of Illinois, said, after the caucus of illinoisans, "We are a unit for Carlisle. Dunn, of Arkansas, has declared for Carlisle, which makes the Arkansas delegation solid. He also has the Mississippl delegation, and the prospects of obtaining Missouri hre very good. Chrisle will surely receive the nomination on the first bailot with from twenty to twenty-live votes to spare, Other Illinols representatives endorse this statement. Judge Buckner, of Missouri, sald that, with the possible exception of Mr. Cienry, the Missouri Democrats will stand as a unit for Carlisle and it seemed to him that the Kentuckiaa's nomination is now assured. The Randall men were working hard all day and say there is every reason for believing their candidate will secare the nomination. They say they are constantly receiving new pledges, and the indientions are that the members yet to arrive will be almost solid for Mr. Randall. Randall's friends are claiming a gain in North Carolina and Wisconsin, and his sapporters are freely taking all bets offered ngaiust his election. Figures are given by both sides showing more than a sufficient number of votes to nominate. and the situation is decidedly perplexing.

The New York delegation held a meeting the evening with eleven members pres at and decided to stand by Mr. Cox None of the New York members suppose to be for Randall attended the meeting. It was also decided to insist upon a viva voce vote in the caucus.

The struggle for the subordinate positions being carried on rather quietiy; but the veral candidates are doing hard work. The Ohio delegation having declared in avor of Leedom for Sergeant-at-Arms. John G. Thompson has formally withdrawn from the contest, and this is thought to be sullicient to guarantee Leedom's nomination. Colonel Jas. Wintersmith says he ls confident of securing the Door-Keeperthip of the House, and the friends of Major Wedderburn, of Maryland, say that he will go into the cancus with eighty votes for the position of Postmaster. other candidates for this position, about teu ln namber, do not give their figures, but each and every one feels confident of success. Messrs, Clark, of Missouri, and Atklus. of Pennsylvania, candidates for the Clerkalp of the House, express themselves as en tirely satisfied with the outlook. The genera impression, however, is that Clark has a good load and will win the race,

At midnight two bets were made at even money, one of $1,500 and the other of $3,000, on the Speakership between friends of Carilsle and Randall. The latter is more confident at this hour than ever, and Carlisle is equally as coulldont. It was decided that the Democratic caucus will be held at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night.

BROOKLYN, Nov. 30,-Mrs. Mary Dosserio, who owns a bakery at No. 22 Union street, this city, had in her employ until recently an Italian baker named Joseph Glasippe. #### Pittsburg Politics.

PITTSBUBG, Nov. 30.-For a week past it has been whispered that a new political movement was to be inaugurated in the Fifth ward of this city. At first the story went that it was to be only an Independent-Democratic ward organization, but it has been learned that the movement is intended to take in every portion of the city, that the doors of its club rooms will be open to all persons whose proclivities are independent, and that It is to be modified after the fanious Tammany Hali party of New York. It was said that ex-Councilman P. McGee, a lending Pittsburg politician, had been corresponding on the subject with John Kelly, of Tammnny Hall, and, in an interview, Mr. McGee confirmed the correctness of the report and promised that the whole thing would be made pub-iic in a few days. Mr. McGee said in New York Tammany Hall always dictates the names of the State officers and has made several Presidents. It is believed that In Pittsburg the same thing can be done on a smaller scale. The object is to place the offices in the hauds of good men irrespective of party.

The game was a very exclting and sharply fought one throughout, but the superior skill and strength of the Yalo team enabled them to win the game with a score of three goals, or eighteen points to Harvard's nothing. This gives the inter-collegiate chnipploiship for the season of 1884 to Yale

LONDON, Nov. 30.-Mr. Lowell authorizes the denial of the report that he has withdrawn from the Lord rectorship of St. Andrews University, or that he has been requested to withdraw. He will abide the decision of the chlefs of the university. The report that Mr. Lowell contemplated resigning his position as United States Minister to England is untrue.

Last year there were five eases of small-pox in one locality near Washington, but hy the prompt action of the county authorities in isolating the cases, the disease was speedily stamped out and no deaths occurred. SAYS the Harrisburg (Pn.) Patrlot: Ohlo has seen a spectre. It was long and gaunt and pale and solemn-looking, like a spectre ought to be. Ever since the Ohio election this spectre has been shrouded in impenetrable gloom. It made no sound. Its lips were frozen tight together by the cold weather that prevailed in the Buckeye State on the memorable tenth of last October. Suddenly the other day it walked out of the deep shade into the light of the popular gaze. It looked about with hollow eyes. Then the seal on its rigid lips was broken and it spoke. The voice, though hollow, was still familiar. It was recognized as that of Senator John Sherman, who had for an instant stepped forth from his seclusion to say that he and Justice Harlan. of the Supreme Court, are of the same mind on the late civil rights decision. Having delivered itself, the spectre's lips closed, the mists of gloom once again gathered around and it sunk back into the soundless depths of the night of unspeakable despair. Ta-ta, John.

It is said when the effects of the late Mr. Marwood, the English executioner, were sold, the articles in which the least interest was manifested were a pair of his stockings. This uppears somewhat singular, inasimuch as there were so many anxious to fill his shoes.

Precantions to use Against Small-Pox. To the Local Boards of Health and the People of the State of Kentucky: The State Board of Health desires to call attention to the fact that small pox, in a severe and futal form, is now prevailing in some sections of our own State, and in cities of adjoining States, so intimately connected with us by the lines of travel as to constantly threaten fresh introductions of the disease. Unless unusual precautions are taken by our city, town and county health nuthorities to prevent such importation and the spread of this dis-ease the experience of last winter is likely to he repented on a much larger scale This hoard, therefore, feels it to be its duty to warn the people that the decisive action should at once be taken to protect the State from this loathsome malady. Fortunately the method of prevention is as certain in its action as it is chean and easy to obtain. Vaccination and re-vaccination, properly done, with reliable vrus, is a certain prevention, and is entirely free from danger. This is the conclusion of the scientific world, after full investigation and large experience, and may be thoroughly relied upon.

Notwithstanding that this safe, cheap and perfect protection is within the reach of all, it is estimated that nearly onethird of the people of this State have never availed themselves of it. It is hoped that the next Legislature will make vaccination compulsory but intelligent persons should not walt for the law to force them to un evident duty. No one should allow himself, or any one for whom he is responsible, to remain unvaccinated at any time, and especially in the face of the present danger. Health and school boards, everywhere, should condition of admission to all schools, public and private, and the proprietors of manufactories and railroads should make the same requirements of their employes. The operation should always be done by a competent physician, at three points in the same arm and the person vaccinated should be seen by him from time to time that he may know that a perfect result has been seenred. Imperfect vaccination can only give rise to a false and often fatal sense of security.

As a further precantion, the various bealth boards of the State, county and municipal, are requested to perfect their organizations, take every precaution to prevent the importation of the disease into the communities over which they have control, or, failing in this, he rendy to stamp it out by strictly isolating the first case, and vuccinating and re-vucelnating every person endningered by it. It would be well for health boards in localities not provided with hospitals to have in view some suitable cottage which could be used as a hospital in case

All carpets, curtains, stuffed furniture, clothing, and other articles not required for immediate use should be removed from rooms intended for use of persons uffected with small-pox; and no person except the physician, nurse or parent, should be allowed to enter or go near the house, or touch any article used therein, until after thorough disinfection. The funerals of all persons dying of this

Here, as in many other things, an ounce of prevention is not only better but cheaper than a pound of cure.

In this and all other matters pertainhig to the public health, the State Board holds itself in readiness to assist the money except where only a small amount local boards to the full extent of its nowof odd cents is involved. The sale of the ers; and all physicians of the State are requested to pramptly notify this office, well as their local boards, of the first outhreak of this or any other contagious disease in their respective communities. Eczema, Illotches, Itingworm, Tumors, Carbuncles, Holls, and Eruptions of the Skin, are the direct result of an impure state of the blood. To cure these diseases the blood must be purlfied, and restored to a healthy and natural condition. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA had for over forty years been recognized by eminent medical authorities as the most powerful blood purifier in existence. It frees the system from all foul humors, enriches and strengthens the blood, removes all iraces of mercurial treatment, and proves itself a complete master of all scrofulous diseases.

A Recent Cure of Scrofulous Sores. "Some months ago I was troubled with scrofulous sores (ulcers) on my legs. The limbs were loud sores (ulcers) on my legs. The limbs were loudly swellen and luflamed, and the sores discharged large quantities of offensive matter. Every remedy I tried failed, until I used Aykn's Sahsapanilla, of which I have now taken three lottics, with the result that the sores are healed, and my general health greatly improved. I feel very grateful for the good your medicine has done me. Yours respectfully, Mas. Ann O'Brian."

The well-known writer on the Boston Herald, B. W. BALL, of Rochester, N.H., writes, June 7, 1882: "Having suffered severely for some years with Eczema, and having failed to finit relief from other romedies, I have made uso, during the past three months, of Aven's Sarsapantilla, which has effected a complete cure. I consider it a magnificent remedy for all blood diseases."

The Misses Jimple Milt, sister of the bride, Willie Conyers, of Covingtou, Ga., and Jeunie Bueba man, of Crab Orchard, were the malds of honor of the occasion. There were no gentlemen attendants—save that the flev. G. C. Keiley, of Covington, the bride's brother-in-law, acted as escart of the groom. As Prois. Guizeit and Schwartz sweetly discoursed the wedding march, little Miss Lucy and Master Ali Turney marched Into the parior, bollowed by the Misses Conyers and Buchanna; then fullowed the groom locked arms with the Rev. G. C. Kolley, officialing minister, after whom the bride, a miry-like blonde was escorted by her sister Jimmie, a bewitching little brunette. Meeting the groom loce to face, they took their position under a pendant parasol of evergreens libed with brooming flowers. In recognition of the matrimonial vows belog duministered, the groom nodied ascent with an op litted hand—a new and very beautital innovation from the old custom. After the ceremony and congratulations, the very select parky of about 31ty or sixty persons assembled, repadred to a sulten of nons was perfectly exvulsite. After lunch, the birlai parky, accompanied by a very complimentary host of friends, departed in a special citair coach for Maysville, lace flounces, point-d waist and Elizabeth collar. I tried everything witbout relief, but after ten day's nise of Kendail's Spavia Cure, I inve not seeu or heard of the pites since. One who has not suffered as I have cannot comprehend the great joy that I felt at being cured of a disease almost worse that meath. I had a valuable young horse that had a large bunch gather on his hieast bone. I tried all kinds of fluiments and had it eut open without any benefit. Shw your advertisesnent and bought a bottle of Lendail's Spavin Cure and ordered my teamster to use as directed. Iu less than one week the lump had dissappeared. BAD, BAD, BAD BLOOD.

Some blood is bad because it is poor and weak. Some is bad because it contains impurities. Some men have such bad blood that the wonder is it does not poison the mosquitoes who come to bite them.

The rich red color of good blood is owing to the iron which is present. Blood which has not enough iron in it is always unsatisfactory. The persons in whose veins it circulates cannot, be said to enjoy good health.

The efforts of expert chemists to produce a preparation of iron which can be assimilated with the blood have resulted in that perfect preparation which is an important part of Brown's Iron Bitters. It is the only one which freely enters into the blood. It is the only one which accomplishes the desired good.

Weak, poor, thin bood may be the 'e'e rich and strong, and impure blood may be purified by the use of that Cheat from Medicine, Brown's Iron Bitters,
